AMITY WINTERS

Principal | Design Leader

Amity has nurtured a lifelong captivation with both flowers and fine art, interests she continues to explore through botanical and landscape painting, plant cultivation and garden design.

These interests blossomed into a profession and for the past 20 years Amity has worked across the globe designing artful gardens and landscapes. She has a passion for creating healthy and nurturing environments, both large-scale settings such as waterfront parks, urban centers, campuses and residential estates to more intimate spaces such as courtyards, farmsteads and backyard perennial gardens. Amity recognizes the unique qualities inherent to each site, using these to craft an original and distinctive vision for every project.
